

Delacon's PropertyDetailer

Delacon's PropertyDetailer is a fully automated solution that allows real-estate agents to easily create voice showings for their properties over the phone and internet.

All you have to do is simply log in to the Delacon web interface and assign numbers to each of the properties in your portfolio, then upload the relevant information for potential buyers or renters. The potential buyer can then access this information by dialling the number and entering the ID code for the property of interest. Save time and money.

Key Benefits:

The product offers your agency a number of exciting benefits:

Market your properties 24 hours a day - The information line is active 24 hours a day, so people can find out relevant information at their convenience. The audio detailer will answer most of their immediate questions and allows callers to leave a message or their contact details if they require further information. Callers can also transfer to an operator if they would prefer.

Lead generation - The system can tell you an inquirer's number and the property that they were interested in, giving you an instant lead database.

Free up your time - PropertyDetailer saves you time, it fields the basic information that punters may have, leaving you free to show your properties and follow-up with real buyers.

Simple to manage - You can update the system as you want, when you want, at no additional charge. Just by using the internet you can make immediate updates and changes.
